

This is how the button should look after it is printed.

This version is for the printer.
This is the front of button with orange color that wraps around to the back of the button.